DIRECTOR ANNOUNCES SPRING SCHEDULE OF HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Track Meet at Belmont Next Thursday To Open Arlington High School Sports' Season — Schedule Issued By Physical Director Downes Includes Track, Baseball, Tennis and Golf — First Ball Game To Be Played With Lexington

Charles Downes, director of physical education in Arlington schools, announced the complete boys' spring sports schedule, yesterday afternoon. The schedule includes all baseball, tennis, golf and track events which will be played off by the Arlington high school teams this coming season.

The first event is an interclass track meet at Belmont which takes place next Thursday, April 14. Coach W. T. McCarthy has a large group this year and great things are expected from the abundance of material.

The following day, the lid will be taken off and Old King Baseball will again rule supreme. The first battle for the local nine will be against Lexington High at Lexington. The first game on the local diamond will be played on April 20 against the fast Cambridge Latin nine. Coach Osteron is now putting his men through some stiff workouts in preparation for next Friday's opener.

The tennis team will play its first matches on April 16 at Exeter. The first local match will be played against Memorial High School on April 27. W. Ray Burke is coaching the netmen.

Arlington High golfers will not open their season until April 20 when they will be entertained at Quincy. Their first local match will take place on May 2 with Woburn as opponents.

The complete schedule as issued by physical director Downes yesterday afternoon follows:

Woman's Club Members Will Enjoy Air Trip

Members of the Arlington Woman's club will soon enjoy a trip over the city of Boston, the legislative committee of the organization having made arrangements for a trip to the East Boston airport on Monday, April 18. The plane used for flights over the city will be a five-passenger cabin model.

Members will meet at the Municipal Building for luncheon at 1.30 p. m. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. D. F. Knight, Arl. 0987-M, not later than April 14. After the luncheon there will be a short talk on aviation by one of the officers of the Curtis-Wright Flying Service Corp., and then the party will be conducted through the hangars and shops. Following this, those who wish to fly over the city may do so at the special low rate of a cent a pound.

J. E. Hennessey Funeral Rites Are Held Today

The funeral of John E. Hennessey, who died in this town last Thursday, took place from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ernest S. Johnson, 24 School street, Arlington, this morning at ten o'clock. Rev. Grady D. Peagan, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated. Burial was in Lebanon, New Hampshire.

High Boys In Stage Contest

Francis "Ski" Dineen and Charles Seibel, both seniors at Arlington high school, have entered their names on the list of contestants who will appear at the Regent Theatre in this town next Tuesday evening.

These boys have made a name for themselves as a result of their radio broadcasts regularly over station WLEY and as a pair of vocalists, they have a good chance to win the twenty-five dollar prize which will go to the best actors in the Regent contest. They had leading roles in the Arlington high school presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" last January.

Both have taken active part in high school athletics. Dineen being a former star in football, track and hockey while Seibel shone as a track man.

Woman's Club To Enjoy Tea

The Arlington Woman's Club members have been invited to enjoy a bridge-tea in the Salada Tea building, corner of Stuart and Berkeley streets, Boston, next Friday, April 15.

Guests will be shown through the modern manufacturing plant before the bridge games get under way and tea will be served during the party. Only eighty-eight guests can be accommodated and those planning to attend are urged to call Mrs. Gammons, Arlington 4327-R, as soon as possible. There will be no charge for the party.

Yankees Double Play Rookies

The cry in the big leagues this season has been for young blood and here is the answer to the prayer of the New York Yankees. At left is Jack Saltzgaver, youthful second baseman, brought to the Yankees camp from St. Paul. His work in the Spring season has won for him the key position. Frank Crosetti (right) came to the Yankees from the Pacific Coast League. His marvelous work in the field and at bat secured him the shortstop position in the Yankees' lineup. Crosetti and Saltzgaver will form a new double play combination, their coming paralleling the arrival in 1926 of Tony Lazzeri and Mark Koenig to the Yank infield.

SERIOUS AUTO CRASH SENDS GIRL TO LOCAL HOSPITAL LAST NIGHT

Bernice Dame, 68 Bay State avenue, Somerville, is lying critically ill at Symmes Arlington hospital as the result of a serious automobile crash which took place at the intersection of River street and Mystic Valley parkway last night at 11 o'clock. She was taken to the hospital in the Arlington police ambulance after having received first aid treatment from Dr. S. M. Simmons.

She was semi-conscious when taken to the hospital but was resting comfortably this morning. It was at first believed that she suffered a broken collar-bone but X-rays were to be taken this morning to ascertain the extent of her injuries.

Miss Dame was riding in an automobile owned and operated by George A. Wood, 6 Campbell Park place, West Somerville, when the latter crashed into a car owned and operated by Frank A. Higgins, 326 Fuller street, Newton. The accident took place at the intersection. Higgins was going toward Broadway, while Wood was bound for Somerville. Both cars were badly damaged and the highway was strewn with broken glass. Metropolitan District police investigated.

Woman Dies In Arlington Home

The funeral of Miss Susan A. Colman, Manchester, Massachusetts, who died at Collup's Nursing Home, Arlington, last Tuesday, took place yesterday. Burial was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Watertown.

Miss Coleman was 81 years of age. She was born in Newburyport, the daughter of Moses and Elizabeth L. (Coffin) Coleman.

Churches Of Christ Sermon For Sunday

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 10.

The Golden Text is: "He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death" (Psalms 68:24).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it came to pass, as Peter passed through all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda. And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy. And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately" (Acts 9:32-34).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Neither evil, disease, nor death can be spiritual, and the material belief in them disappears in the ratio of one's spiritual growth" (p. 368).

Stranger Rumages Through Automobiles

According to a report made to officer MacLean of the Arlington police department, a shabbily dressed man was seen going through several automobiles parked in front of Blake's Shop, in Arlington Center last Wednesday evening. The police conducted an investigation.

Will Entertain Cast Of Local Church Play

Next Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Eagleson of 19 Maple street are to be the host and hostess at a gathering of those who took part in the "District School at Blueberry Corners," given in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church on Friday last week. Mrs. Eagleson coached the production, and was largely instrumental in making it a success.

ARMENIAN CLUB MEETS

The Arlington Armenian Women's club enjoyed a most successful tea in the Studio Building, Davis square, Somerville, yesterday afternoon. A large number of members were present.

—Miss Marion Crampton, Wellesley, '35, is spending her spring vacation in Washington, D. C. She was one of the girls chosen to represent the Freshman gym class at the College's annual gymnastic meet last Thursday.

ARLINGTON NURSING ASSOCIATION SEEKS $5,000 THIS YEAR

Radio Carollers To Sing In Local Church, Sunday

The Dudley Radio Carollers, who have been heard by thousands of radio listeners throughout New England, will appear at the First Baptist Church in Arlington next Sunday. Howard Ferrin, head of the group, will appear with his singers in two programs which are to start at 3 and 7 p. m.

Mr. Ferrin will be assisted by Carlton F. Booth, who is co-operating in the arrangement of a program of outstanding selections. The Radio Carollers are certain to attract a large congregation.

They have sung and spoken in many places throughout New England, but this is their first appointment in Arlington. Recently they spoke to capacity audiences in Lowell. All their many radio admirers as well as the public at large are invited to see and hear them at the First Baptist church next Sunday.

Public Contributions Will Be Sought Next Week In Canvass For Funds To Carry On Work of Visiting Nursing Association — Six Thousand Cases Attended To Last Year — Many Are Charity Cases—Annual Meeting Next Tuesday

After several weeks of preparation for a concerted drive, the Arlington Visiting Nursing association canvassers are ready to start their annual membership campaign Monday morning. The sum of $5,000 must be raised and it is hoped that the amount can be subscribed within record time.

Because of careful budgeting, the association is ending its current year without a deficit in spite of the fact that the number of cases has increased considerably. However, the support of the public is necessary in order to carry on the work. Six thousand visits were made by the association during the year ending April 1, 1932. Three graduate nurses and one senior nurse are employed regularly by the Arlington Visiting Nursing association to insure proper functioning of its work. The work of these nurses can be kept up only if the public responds to the present appeal for funds for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

Not only has the number of visits made by the association increased during the past year, but the number of free calls in the month of March alone has risen to two hundred. These free visits were made to homes where the need was so great that the persons receiving medical attention could not even afford to pay the moderate fees charged by the Visiting Nursing association. Yet, the Association has never refused to give aid in such cases. Now it is asking for generous public support to help these cases.

The community canvass takes place during the week in which the annual meeting and election of officers are held. This will occur in the assembly room of the Robbins Library next Tuesday afternoon. An invitation to all members of the association has been extended and it is expected that further details of the drive will be discussed and mapped out at this annual session. Mrs. Roger W. Homer, 25 Addison street, Arlington, will preside. Those in charge of the drive are Mrs. John G. Brackett, Mrs. Robert M. Murphy and Mrs. William A. Muller.

It is up to every citizen of Arlington to contribute some amount, no matter how small, when the canvasser approaches him next week. A contribution gives a person membership into an association which has done a staggering amount of good work year in and year out, for the past twenty-eight years.

Roomer Walks Off With Some Extra Property

This roomer walked off! Mrs. Mary Curnick of 88 Oxford street, Arlington, reported to police headquarters yesterday that a man who formerly roomed at her home had left the house with several articles of clothing last Monday. The lady hesitated before letting police know of the theft. She is the widow of Rev. Edward T. Curnick. Police are investigating the alleged theft.

Menotomy Club Issues Challenge

The Menotomy Club of Arlington, formerly the Arlington Catholic Club, is in the field for games with fast semi-professional nines around Boston, either home or away. The Arlington nine is starting practice, and plans to pry open its season within a couple of weeks. Charles Crocco is managing the team, and he is desirous of booking games. Managers may telephone him at Arlington 4731-R evenings after 6 p. m., or write him at 10 Grove street, Arlington.

John F. Sullivan Dies At Home

John F. Sullivan, of 94 Grafton street, Arlington, died yesterday. He was the husband of Margaret M. (Coleman) Sullivan. ### WILL DEDICATE GEORGE WASHINGTON HIGHWAY IN STATE NEXT JUNE

Plans for the dedication of the Massachusetts George Washington Memorial Highway, running from Boston through Worcester and Springfield, and down the west side of the Connecticut river to Agawam, are rapidly nearing completion.

The exercises to be held in connection with this great ceremony will be unique in character, and one of the largest undertakings ever attempted in the history of the state. It is predicted that approximately one hundred thousand persons will take part, and over a million persons will witness the event. Members of the Commission have conferred with President Hoover in Washington with a view to having him officiate in the highway dedication. The President assured the Massachusetts Commission that he would make every effort to be in Massachusetts and travel over the route which Washington himself took during his visit to this Commonwealth in 1789, as first President of the United States of America. Secretary of the Navy, Charles Francis Adams, likewise has been consulted concerning this program, and undoubtedly will play an important part in the ceremony. Governor Joseph B. Ely, and other prominent state and federal notables will also take conspicuous parts in this event.

The dedication will take place on June 8, 9, and 10, starting at the state border at Agawam, and climaxed in the city of Boston. On the two days previous to June 8, the Connecticut George Washington Bicentennial Commission will dedicate the Connecticut George Washington Memorial Highway running from New Haven to the Connecticut state line at Agawam. At this

Arlington Man To Run In Hub 10-Mile Race

Johnny Kelley of Arlington is entered in the twenty-second annual 10-mile marathon which is being sponsored by the Cathedral Y. M. C. A. in Boston this afternoon. Kelley will start from scratch in the open-handicap race starting at three o'clock this afternoon.

Kelley is one of the outstanding runners entered in the event. He won the time prize in the St. Joseph T. A. S. run and came in second to Leslie Pawson in the Presentation grind last week, both starting from scratch.

The field will consist of almost one hundred and fifty runners who will start from Union Park street at the crack of the gun. Kelley, considered one of the best 10-mile men in this section, will be the only runner on scratch. The course will be to Harrison avenue, to Massachusetts avenue, to Columbia road, to Blue Hill avenue, to Morton street and return by the same route. The record for the course is 51 minutes 7 seconds and is held by Jimmie Henigan.

SEARCHLIGHT CLUB TO MEET

The next meeting of the Searchlight Club will be held at the home of Mrs. A. A. Lawson, 13 Ravine road on Thursday at 2.30 p. m. The speaker will be Wayne B. Wagar, son of the president. His subject will be "The Operation of Our Principal Commodities and Security Markets." Tea will be served.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES AND SOCIAL EVENTS

CHAPTER 5, AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS, RECEIVES FLAGS AT MEETING IN MALDEN

The meeting of Chapter 5, American War Mothers of Medford, was held yesterday in Malden Electric hall. It was an open meeting, members of the Women's Relief Corps, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War of both cities being present.

Mrs. Cora Belle Francis, State President, gave a talk on the ideals of the organization. She spoke particularly of the home in Washington which has been purchased by the War Mothers and in which Massachusetts is furnishing a room. Medford Chapter is making a quilt for this room.

One of the brilliant features of the program was the presentation of two flags to the Chapter. One was the gift of the Chapter members and was presented by the four-year-old granddaughters of Mrs. David Condon, a Chapter member. The other was the gift of the Auxiliary to the Malden American Legion and was presented by Mrs. Ella Hart, the president.

Each flag made by a least plate suitable for a flag.

The donors were escorted by the color team of the Malden Unit, in uniform, who also acted as ushers during the afternoon.

Mrs. Harding acted as pianist. Miss Louise Rowe rendered a solo, and reading was given by Miss Hughes, both of Malden.

Refreshments were served.

The afternoon was arranged by the Malden members of the Chapter, with Mrs. M. E. Nourse, chairman.

About 125 were present at the meeting at which Mrs. A. Beatrice Thompson, the president, presided.

French Viewpoint Of Washington

Widespread recognition has been given the Washington Bicentennial by French newspapers, in which the Father of his Country is attributed "a place among the immortals, beside Julius Caesar and Napoleon," and likened to "a knight of the Middle Ages" with lovely Sally Fairfax for "queen of his thoughts."

A Washington portrait now in France, at the Museum of the Louvre, has also been widely reproduced by the French papers with tributes to Franco-American cooperation in the World War, nearly a century and a half after the friendship of Lafayette and Washington at Mt. Vernon.

"Washington was a younger son of an English family emigrated to Virginia, that is to say, disinherited in advance," writes Le Matin of Paris, commenting on a new French biography, "Washington, the Gentleman," by Bernard Fay, "that little by little he made himself a place among the immortals, beside Julius Caesar and Napoleon, for it was he more than anyone else who bore the immense responsibility for the independence of the United States."

"In 1748," the paper continues, "he met Sally Cary. He met her, and loved her, a platonic love. She became the queen of his thoughts, like the ladies of those knights of the Middle Ages whom he so resembled."

The Blercourt portrait of Washington reproduced by the French papers was the work of Samuel King of Newport and is believed to have been taken from a 1780 copy of a portrait painted by Charles Wilson Peale in 1772, showing Washington at the age of forty as an officer of the Colonial Forces of Virginia. It is now the property of the Museum of Blercourt, and is owned by the society of the Amis de Blercourt in recognition of the reconstruction work carried out by the American Committee for Devastated France in the Province of the Aisne, the area most fought over by American doughboys in the World War.

Other valuable Americana at the Blercourt Museum are maps used by Lafayette's forces, as well as portraits, autographs, caricatures and other historical souvenirs of George Washington's French friends and allies. A bust of John Paul Jones is also there, by the famous French sculptor, Houdon, whose bust of Washington is thought by many to be the most lifelike portrait of our first President now in existence.

Inter-racial Unity Conference of Mass. State Federation

Among the pertinent problems to be discussed at the annual conference of the Division of Inter-racial Unity of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, Friday, at International Institute, 190 Beacon street, Boston, will be "Second Generation Youth," presented by Mrs. Harry Bremer, national executive, International Institute, New York.

Other speakers will be Miss Mary L. Guyton, state supervisor, Division of Adult Alien Education, on "Citizenship—Its Significance to Native Born, to Foreign Born," Miss Alice W. O'Connor, state supervisor of social service, Division of Immigration and Americanization, "Changing Aspects of Immigration," Miss Edna Phillips, State Division of Public Libraries, "Reading Service to Racial Groups." Discussion of club programs will follow.

Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay will give the chief address of the afternoon, speaking on "What the Eye Saw and the Ear Heard in Russia in 1931." Mrs. Roy C. Baker of Clinton, state chairman of art, will speak on "Racial Contributions to Art," introducing as a special feature an interpretation of the negro spiritual, "Going Home" by Meta Warwick Fuller.

Youth activities will be demonstrated in "Youth and Music" by Brahms' ensemble of Revere High school. Miss Helen N. O'Connor, director, Mrs. William H. Perry of Leominster will speak on "A Little Study of Italian Background" and Sarkis M. Zartarian, secretary, Massachusetts Inter-racial Citizens Committee, on "Preservation of Armenian Language and Customs."

Mrs. William I. MacAulay of Revere, presiding, will present as honor guests Mrs. Ellis P. Thurber of Pawtucket, chairman of Americanization, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Georgia L. Ely of International Institute; and Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, state president, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, Mrs. Fred L. Pidgeon and Mrs. Nathaniel E. Smith.

Exhibits of art, handicraft, books and school work will be shown. Luncheon reservations, available until April 12, are in charge of Mrs. Harry Bar, 33 Highland street, Reading.

Catholic Women's Club To Entertain Gentlemen

The Medford Catholic Women's club will act as hostesses to the gentlemen friends of the club, Monday evening.

This annual event has always been a gala formal party, but in the interest of the club's charitable program, this year's evening will be an informal party.

President Margaret M. Reardon, is chairman of the evening and is being assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Connelly, Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan, Mrs. Alice O'N. Budd, Miss Sara E. Kirwin, Miss Marie Walsh and Mrs. Mary Flaherty.

Well known artists have been engaged to entertain the members, and after buffet refreshments, music for dancing will be provided by a popular orchestra, and pivot whist or bridge may be enjoyed.

On account of the large membership, guests have been limited to one for each member.

The committees in charge are: Entertainment Committee—Mrs. Margaret M. Reardon, Mrs. Alice O'N. Budd, and Miss Sara Kirwin.

Dance Program—Mrs. Winifred J. Connelly, Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan, Miss Kathleen Marcon, Mrs. Helen Norton and Mrs. Gertrude Pallante.

Whist and Bridge—Mrs. Clara Sullivan, Miss Mary F. Hughes, and Mrs. Margaret O'Sullivan.

Refreshments—Mrs. Mary Kenefick, Mrs. Eugenia Quinn, Mrs. Mary Surrence and Mrs. Mary Sullivan.

MUSEUM CONCERTS

Arthur Fiedler, who has become firmly established in the affections of the Boston public through his numerous concerts at the Esplanade, at the Pops, over the radio, and at the Museum of Fine Arts will conduct the first of two regular spring concerts at the Museum of Fine Arts on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

As usual the Museum galleries will be open from 7 to 11 o'clock on the evening of the Concert allowing time before and after the music for visiting the collections.

A second concert by the Harvard Glee club will be given in May. Both concerts are made possible by generous contributions from a group of Boston people.

WHIST PARTY

Royal Chapter, O. E. S., will meet in Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening. A bridge and whist party will be held at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Lillian Clark, associate matron, as chairman. There will be an early meeting.

Club Presidents To Go To Seattle

As the time approaches, interest in the bicentennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, June 9-18, at Seattle, grows apace. Nearly 200 women of this state have already signed up for the "Poole Special," bent on casting their votes for Mrs. Poole of Brockton as national president.

These clubs will have the distinction of sending their presidents: Auburndale Women's club, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger; Brightelmstone club, Mrs. A. Bruce MacConnell; Brockton Women's club, Mrs. Charles R. Storey; North Shore club, Lynn, Mrs. George H. Ball; Fortian club, Somerville, Mrs. Frank M. Knight; Hopton club, Somerville, Mrs. Percy C. Bond; Somerville Women's club, Mrs. James H. Buzzell; West Roxbury Woman's club, Mrs. Frederick E. Atwood; The Fortnightly; Winchester, Mrs. Walter W. Winship; Wollaston Women's club, Mrs. W. Scott Austin; and the presidents to be elected of Arlington Women's club and Brookline Woman's club.

West Medford Woman's Club Hears of Life In Oberammergau

Mrs. Carl L. Watson spoke to the West Medford Woman's club under the auspices of the Community Service committee, Mrs. Ralph S. Nealy, chairman.

Mrs. Watson, a prominent club woman, has the ability to carry her audience with her so that the "Community Spirit of Oberammergau" became very real to her listeners. She showed those famous portrayals of the world's greatest religious drama to be simple folk away from the world, earning their living as tradesmen, farmers, potters and woodcarvers. Yet they were able without any coaching except their own religious convictions, to attract world-wide attention at the drama which is presented every ten years as a thanksgiving for deliverance from a pestilence.

Most of the villagers are inspired to live noble lives in the hope that they may be considered worthy to be elected to play a part in the "Passion Play."

Since this is given out of doors, in the daytime and no makeup is used, most of the men are heavily bearded, a requirement for most parts.

It was a glimpse and yet so satisfying.

Several selections by the Radcliffe College orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Smith Bailey, opened the program, the "celist of the orchestra playing two solo numbers.

Mrs. Harry T. Stock, chairman of the nominating committee submitted the following nominations for 1932-33:

For president, Mrs. Wilbert Lindquist.

First vice president, Mrs. C. R. LaRose.

Second vice president, Mrs. Henry Kahlmeyer.

Recording secretary, Mrs. William M. Parks.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Black.

Treasurer, Mrs. John C. Wilson.

Custodian, Mrs. James Morrison.

Directors for 2 years, Mrs. D. B. Hicks, Mrs. Charles L. Joslin, Mrs. A. E. Burnham, Mrs. George H. Lamont.

Nominating committee, Mrs. Carl F. Ashton, Mrs. Harry E. Carter, Mrs. Victor Gilbert, Mrs. H. M. Lewis, Mrs. Robert T. Harward.

Member scholarship committee, Mrs. Frank L. Deery.

It was announced that tickets for the Annual Luncheon could be procured from Mrs. Lewis D. Parker, chairman of the Hospital, Unit Committee.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of this interesting meeting.

Announcement Of LaPointe-Dinan Engagement

The engagement of Miss Frances M. Dinan, daughter of Mrs. Mary Dinan of 9 Amaranth avenue, Medford, formerly of Malden, to Henry W. LaPointe of Irving court, Lande, was announced at a party held at her home recently.

Miss Dinan attended the Immaculate Conception High school of Malden after which she became supervisor of the Malden Telephone exchange.

Mr. LaPointe attended the Malden High school and also has taken a course in architectural drawing. He is employed by Cook and Moreau, contractors of Arlington.

FEDERATION BROADCAST

Speakers for the Saturday broadcast of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, April 16 at 11.30 a. m. from WBZ will be Mrs. Leon P. Dutch of Winthrop, state chairman of community service on "What We Share," and Mrs. Nathaniel E. Smith of Somerville, in review of club activities in the Seventh District of which she is director. Charles W. Little of Brockton will give violin selections.

SANTA MARIA LODGE

Santa Maria Lodge, Order of the Sons of Italy, is planning for its installation which will be held April 23rd in Elks hall. Anthony Julian, district deputy, will install the officers and there will be an entertainment and dancing.

MISSION STUDY CLASS

The Mission Study class of the Women's Federation of the West Medford Baptist church will meet at the church on Friday, Mrs. Mabel McLean will have charge of the lesson from "The Challenge of Change."

Mrs. G. F. Weston, Jr., Hostess at Novel "Garden Tea"

Mrs. George F. Weston Jr., was hostess at her home, 63 Oakland street, Medford, on Tuesday afternoon to about 50 members and friends of the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church, the occasion being a "Garden Tea."

Mrs. Louis Dethlefs and Miss Virginia Churchill entertained with piano duets and Miss Sally Service of a prominent Boston Seed store gave delightful hints on planning for the spring garden.

David Baker rendered violin solos accompanied by his mother Mrs. Herman Baker.

The affair was in charge of Mrs. Everett W. Stone.

American Home Program Offers Many Treats

"Making Your Kitchen Smile" is the attractive subject upon which Mrs. Regina Feeney of the Middlesex County Extension Bureau will speak during the morning session of American Home Day of the Hillside Mothers' club on Monday, April 26th. Miss Feeney was most delightful last year in her part in the American Home program, and those who heard her have been anxious to have the opportunity to do so again.

A correspondingly interesting program for this unusual day has been arranged by Mrs. Fred W. Sleeper, chairman of the Mothers' club American Home group. She had charge also, last year, of the remarkably successful American Home Day, the first to be held in Medford. This, the "second annual," promises to be "just as fine," or it would be difficult for it to be "better."

Further details of the program will be published next week.

At noon, a delicious pattern luncheon will be served for which a limited supply of tickets is available. These have been distributed among the hostesses and must be obtained from them. The hostesses are Mesdames W. M. Wing, B. R. Gale, Horace Morse, A. E. Warwick, A. C. Gray, Maurice Lee, T. E. Brownlow, C. S. Adams, Joseph Komenda, Walter Baker, C. R. Davis, E. C. Norse, H. J. Garland, Alexander Kearns, A. D. McLean, and L. S. Burna. Mrs. B. H. Littlefield is dining room chairman.

Home Talent Day Planned For Mothers' Club

The program for Home Talent Day at the Hillside Mothers' club on Monday is being kept as secret as possible by chairman Mrs. C. C. Meloon. A delightful and amusing afternoon is promised, but no details are given. It is hoped that a large number will be present for the pleasant surprise in store.

On Monday also, the revised constitution and by-laws will be voted upon. The revision committee has spent much time and thought upon its task and a very fine report will be acted upon Monday. The committee consists of Mesdames Mary B. Bancroft, Wilma B. Johnson, Carrie S. Sleeper, Mary L. Littlefield and Amanda C. Campbell, chairman. Mrs. H. G. Eremian is hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth McGray installs Officers Of Nantucket Salon

Mrs. Elizabeth V. M. Gray, 146 Damon road, Medford, president of Middlesex Salon, 161, 8 of 40, with a group of State officers, instituted the Nantucket Salon during the past week and installed its officers.

Mrs. N. P. Halliwell sponsors Play For Women's E and I Union

Mrs. N. P. Halliwell of 50 Mystic street is one of those interested in the success of the Abbey Players performance at the Hollis street theatre, Wednesday evening, April 20, of Lennox Robinson's "The Far-Off Hills," by which the Women's Educational and Industrial Union will benefit.

Through two depressed winters, the Union has been carrying on a clinic for unemployed women. But it has now become a question of keeping its own four hundred women at work. Thus it is toward the support of the Union's own social and philanthropic departments that the proceeds of this interesting evening will be devoted.

Osgood Union To Give Theatre Dance

The young people of the Osgood Union of the First Parish church are giving a theatre dance on Friday evening in the Parish hall.

The play of the evening is a melodrama by Miss June Coolidge, "Our Nera," which bids fair to offer all the attractions supposed to come with such a drama.

The cast includes the Misses Erma Bowman, Marjorie Bean, Allison Braxton, Elizabeth Clark, and William Clark, Richard Johnson, Frederick Breed, David Baker, Charles Finney, Donald Fiske, Robert Whittemore, Clark—Williams, Whit Roberts, Richard Fiske and Arthur Bowden.

Walter R. Magoun is the coach. Dancing will follow the play.

Tent 22 Notes

The first meeting of the month held at headquarters in United Spanish War Veterans hall, was called to order at seven o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Shirley Scribner, presiding.

The purpose of this early meeting, was to transact all accumulated business, that, following an early adjournment, the President accompanied by her members might attend the Exemplification of the new Ritualistic work which was to be performed in Grand Army hall, Jamaica Plain.

Tent 22 shows a lively interest in wishing to expand as applications from desirable eligibles are being received, and several granddaughters have recently become enrolled.

Mrs. Stella M. Hollis, chairman of whist, reports favorable indications of a successful series now being conducted at the homes of members. The second in the series having been held at the home of an honorary member, Mrs. Lena Higginson, of Garfield avenue. Notice will precede each gathering.

An invitation to attend an open meeting of the War Mothers' was extended to Mrs. Stella M. Hollis in addition to the annual luncheon and customary business of the occasion.

Entertainment will be provided by the Pilgrim Trio of Melrose which consists of Lucy Norton, violinist, Rosalie Taylor, cellist and Ruth Brigham, pianist.

They have arranged a very fine program which will delight their hearers.

The speaker will be Mrs. Frank Roe Bachelard who will discuss, "President Hoover, the Man, and the Republican Administration." Current Events will be discussed by Mrs. Margaret Pote. Club music will be furnished by Mrs. Bessie Roberts.

Election of officers will be one of the important items of business.

Guests will be present representing the Women's Republican Clubs of Everett, Malden, Arlington, Winchester, and Boston.

The annual luncheon will be held at twelve noon. Mrs. Nellie I. Foster is chairman. Hostesses will be: Mesdames Edith Richardson, Ruth Lovering, Alice N. Fessenden, Myrtle Bowman, Ada M. Willey, Gertrude Beals, Sadie Jones, Emma S. Heckbert, Louise Deane, Ada Norcott, Carrie Simonson, Mabel B. Murdock, Isabelle Linnell, Mabel Sears, May T. Johnson, Cora B. Godwin.

The waitresses will be: Mesdames Martha L. Walker, Amy B. Hart, Mabel A. Wetmore, Carrie B. Groves, Carolyn E. Weeks, Eleanor West, Alice Westgate, Pearl Perry, Alice Webster, and Misses Mary Wright and Frances Smith.

Dr. and Mrs. Mauriello Parents of Baby Boy

A son was born Wednesday to Dr. Francisco P. Mauriello and Mrs. Mauriello of 347 Salem street, Medford. The baby has been named for its father.

Miss Irene M. Vernaglia of Mystic Valley parkway has resumed her studies at the Lowell Teachers' college after her recent illness.

Annual Church Supper Of The West Medford Congregational Church

The annual church supper of the West Medford Congregational Church will be held on Tuesday, at 6.30 p. m. and will be in charge of Circle 5 of the Women's League, Mrs. Josephine Schoonaker, chairman.

At the conclusion of the supper, the annual business meeting of the church will take place.

Book Talks for Members Of Thursday Fortnightly

A program of Book Talks was given at the meeting of the Thursday Fortnightly club held at the Women's clubhouse.

The literature committee with Mrs. Alice O'Neill Budds presiding for the evening presented Mrs. Alice Rugg, chairman of the Book Review class of the Medford Women's club, who spoke on "Books You Have Enjoyed and Will Enjoy" and Miss Mary Davis of the Medford Public Library on "If You Read."

Mrs. Rugg considered a generous list of books classifying them and sketching their contents.

Miss Davis brought word of the service the Public Library renders to the community and the problems to be met in connection with its administration.

Before introducing the speakers, Mrs. Budds spoke of the various Book Clubs in Federated club circles and of their value as a source of advancement.

The evening concluded with refreshments served by the following committee: Mesdames Julia O'Brien, Aileen Coughlin, Louise Harrington and Mary Mullett.

A. CHESLEY YORK TO SPEAK AT BICENTENNIAL MEETING OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The program for the second annual open meeting of the Women's Federation of the First Baptist church is one which will be especially pleasing to those who attend.

The evening is planned by the Civic department, of which Mrs. N. D. Robinson is chairman.

Mrs. Robinson has secured as speaker, A. Chesley York, whose subject will be "Our Unique Form of Government, State and Federal and Washington's contribution Thereto."

Mr. York is an authority on his subject. He is an attorney with the United States Department of Justice, and is also connected with the Suffolk Law School and the Portia School of Law.

George Drew of Lowell will contribute to the musical portion of the program. Mr. Drew has been heard several times in this city and will be warmly welcomed. Orison K. Smith, the organist of the church will give a half hour of music before the meeting begins and Miss Bettina Gilbert will lead a period of devotion.

This meeting is the contribution of the Federation to the Washington Bicentennial and this atmosphere will be carried out during the social hour which will follow the meeting. This will be in charge of the Social life department of which Mrs. George Nason is the head.

Invitations have been extended to the various women's organizations and all will be welcomed with their gentlemen friends.

Mrs. Clara W. Jackson To Entertain Evening Branch Alliance

The Evening Branch of the Women's Alliance of the First Parish church will meet on Wednesday evening with Mrs. Clara W. Jackson, at her home, 3 Summit road, Medford.

The meeting is in charge of Mrs. Stella Howe and Miss Mary Davis, librarian of the Medford Public Library will speak on "Our Library."

Republican Club To Elect Officers

A delightful program has been provided for the annual meeting of the Medford Women's Republican club next Thursday. In addition to the annual luncheon and customary business of the occasion.

Entertainment will be provided by the Pilgrim Trio of Melrose which consists of Lucy Norton, violinist, Rosalie Taylor, cellist and Ruth Brigham, pianist.

Better Breakfasts

LET us be gay" is the best sort of motto for the breakfast table. This is a meal at which cheerfulness is really an asset.

If the morning sun comes into your dining room, encourage it by lifting the blinds to its golden splendor. If the room faces north or west, perhaps you can find a sunny corner elsewhere in which to set the breakfast table—a bridge table will do nicely, if the family is small, and it is fun to make of the first meal of the day a movable feast.

Field Flower China

Use your gayest china, something with field flowers on it, or bright plates and cups in a variety of tones—should it not be of egg-shell thinness, it matters not at all for this informal meal.

As for food, give them a Better Breakfast. Here is a menu which will add perceptibly to the gaiety of even the gayest spring morning.

Strawberries and Cream
Cold Cereal
Scrambled Eggs and Hominy
Peach Jam
Toast
Coffee

Scrambled Eggs and Hominy: Fry four slices bacon crisp, remove from skillet. Drain one-half No. 3 can hominy, add to hot fat, sauté a delicate brown. Beat four eggs slightly and add to hominy, cook gently until eggs are done. Season to taste. Add bacon broken up, or lay slices on top. About one-fourth cup grated cheese may be sprinkled over top. Serves four.

Biscuits Ready-to-Bake

BISCUITS—ready for the oven, feather-light and with that flakiness that brands them as biscuits from the Old South—these are the packaged biscuits that even father can bake to perfection now.

They come in cylindrical fibre cartons, buttermilk biscuits, ten to each package and separated from one another by layers of tin foil. You buy them right from the refrigerator at your grocery or delicatessen store. You tuck them into your own refrigerator and take them out ten minutes before time to serve. They fairly pop out of the carton when you open it—fluffy and light, ready to bake a beautiful golden brown.

An Old Kentucky Recipe

There's a story there, you say. There is. And the story comes from Kentucky, where good biscuits and good old Kentucky hospitality come from a baker of Bowling Green was the proud possessor of a superior old recipe for buttermilk biscuits. He believed people everywhere preferred good biscuits. He experimented with his formula for several years, until he had achieved a biscuit which would keep, under proper refrigeration, and which would be practicable for marketing.

He brought his biscuits to Louisville and started a bakery, on an obscure corner. The people of Louisville made a path to his door. Then a large flour mill, which supplied the flour for the biscuits arranged to take over the product, and produce it in quantity. Atlanta was the first test city. In six weeks sales leapt from 600 to 6,000 packages a day. In Indianapolis, the first northern city to try them, they proved even more popular.

Today enormous numbers of biscuits go direct from the mixing truck to a fleet of refrigerated trucks and are thus serviced to markets everywhere.

Analysis of Crime Statistics Reveal
Thefts Large Item

In commenting on a summary of crime statistics recently published by the U. S. Department of Justice, Mr. Roger P. Carlson, the Insurance broker, stated yesterday that during 1931, burglary, robbery, theft and larceny comprised 95 per cent of all the grave offenses reported to the police.

This figure, explained Mr. Carlson, includes automobile thefts which, with one exception, were greater in number during the month of April than at any other time.

The individual percentages of all offenses, as shown by the report, were 6 per cent for robbery, 21 per cent for burglary, 43 per cent for larceny and theft, 25 per cent for automobile theft, and 5 per cent miscellaneous.

Mr. Carlson further pointed out that out of a total of 770 cities which were represented in the report, 430 were in the population group of 10,000 to 25,000 and only 88 were in the group having populations of over 100,000. In other words, 79 per cent of the cities which made returns were so called "small" cities.

A more detailed analysis of the tables showed that the number of offenses reported averaged 36 per day per 1,000,000 population in cities of 100,000 or over, and 35 per day per 1,000,000 population in cities of less than 100,000. This shows virtually the same ratio for both large and small cities and indicates that residents in small cities need protection against burglars, robbers and thieves as much as do their big city neighbors.

This was further borne out, according to Mr. Carlson, by a comparison between the number of offenses under the individual classifications. For example, the number of burglaries averaged 8 per day per 1,000,000 population in both the large and small cities. The number of thefts averaged 14 per day per 1,000,000 population in the large cities but 16 per day in the small cities. The number of automobile thefts averaged 9 per day in the large cities and 7 per day in the small cities.

ARLINGTON DAILY NEWS
ARTHUR J. MANSFIELD
Managing Editor
L. ALBERT BRODEUR
News Editor
Published every afternoon except Sundays and holidays by Arlington Daily News, Inc., at 23 Mystic street, Arlington.
Entered as second class matter June 15, 1931, at the post office at Boston, Mass., under Act of March 3, 1879.
The News assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which an error occurs.
The business office of the Arlington Daily News is open from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. daily (except on Sundays and holidays) for receiving news and advertising. Telephone Arlington 1305.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER
The local newspaper should be a real factor in building
and promoting everything that is worthwhile in the community in which it operates.
Weekly newspapers in the average town in New England are printed on flat-bed presses and their circulation of weekly newspapers of the better class is about 2000 copies.
In a few cases the circulation figures run up from 3000 to 5000 weekly but rarely do they exceed this number. When larger circulation is required, newspapers often use the Duplex Press in printing their editions but even then this type of press is unable to print large editions speedily enough to meet the needs of a daily newspaper.
The demand for complete coverage of a city or town necessitates editions of such size that rotary presses are required. These presses involve a large investment of capital so that it becomes necessary to print several papers in a given district to warrant the investment required.
The net result is that in order to give advertisers and readers sufficient circulation to offset the scattered coverage of weekly and metropolitan dailies, up-to-date equipment
must be utilized to obtain the desired result.
There are only three plants in this section of the country that can produce such newspapers as the Daily News, in sufficient quantity to get complete coverage of Arlington homes, and the citizens of Arlington should realize that it is to their benefit to have a newspaper with complete coverage made possible in this way.

MORE UNFAIR CLASS TAXATION
Some nationally organized sportsmen's associations are joining in a request that Congress finance the rehabilitation of water fowl breeding grounds through the imposition of a special tax of one cent a shell on shotgun ammunition.
Congress should reject this plan; not because there isn't real need for the restoration of the duck population, nor because there is any reason why duck shooters themselves should not pay the bill. Congress should reject this plan because of its palpable unfairness to men and boys who buy shotgun ammunition for purposes other than the shooting of ducks, and because of the likelihood of serious fraud and scandal if an attempt is made to exclude these other buyers through a system of refunds.
The proposed act contemplates such refunds in the case
of trap shooters and skeet shooters.
Are its authors aware of the magnitude of gasoline tax frauds and evasions now practiced in numerous states in the collection of refunds on gas purportedly used elsewhere than on highways?
And what about the fellow who burns a lot of ammunition in a year on vermin and on game other than ducks, but dwells in a region where the duck shooting is negligible?
Must he be taxed to pay for some other man's water fowl hunting?

Because of the shortened season on water fowl, far more shells are fired at Minnesota pheasants in 1931 than at Minnesota ducks. In many states in the South, quail shooting is far more important sport than duck shooting. Some hundreds of thousands of men and boys in regions that are far from the main duck routes shoot chiefly at rabbits. Surely it would be neither just nor reasonable to promote duck resources at the expense of the farm boy...or
...the sportsman shooting almost exclusively at upland game.—From the Minneapolis Journal.

NEW FORD V-8 PLACED ON DISPLAY FOR PUBLIC
IN LOCAL SHOWROOM

Arlington got its first glimpse of the new Ford-model V-8 today!
The new 8-cylinder car is now on display at Charles H. Per-ham, incorporated, authorized
Ford dealers, located at 29 1/2
Broadway, Arlington Centre.
Many people who have been waiting for the new model were on hand at the Arlington showrooms today and the place is expected to be humming all evenings.
The new Ford V-8 represents a notable advance in motor car engineering.
The new car is large, long,
roomy, fast, powerful and alert.
Its eight-cylinder V-type engine develops 65 horsepower. The car is capable of 75 miles an hour.
Some of the mechanical features are rubber mounting for engine; downdraft carburetor;
automatic spark control; fuel pump; rear fuel tank; soft, flexible springs; large mechanical four-wheel brakes; small, strong, electrically welded steel-spoke wheels and large tires. The frame is cushioned from the running gear by rubber insulators
in the spring shackles and shock
absorber links.
The 14 body types may be obtained also with an improved 50 horsepower, 4-cylinder engine
at lower cost.
The bodies are fresh and modern—from the gracefully rounded V-radiator to rear bumper. Body interiors are roomy and richly finished. Seats are of new style, designed for utmost comfort.
Driver's seats in all closed cars are adjustable. A large ventilator is provided in the cowl.
The instrument panel is oval,
with a rustless steel mounting.
Inside sun visors fold out of the way when not in use.
Many outstanding features are found in the chassis. These include a strong, rugged frame;
newly designed, soft, flexible transverse cantilever springs;
rubber-cushioned spring shackles and self-adjusting hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers and large brakes.
The rear spring is mounted on perches back of the axle housing and is bowed out around the differential housing.
The shape of the frame and design of the springs allow the body to be mounted close to the road, thus lowering the car's center of gravity and improving roadability and riding comfort.
The large mechanical four-

Daddy Sunshine
Club Rules
1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray" of Sunshine into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.
These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.
Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.
Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter
after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.
To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

Back from Hospital
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I would have written to you sooner, but I just got home from the hospital, after having my appendix out.
While I was at the hospital, I received many letters and cards.
I also received some very nice flowers from my teacher and classmates.
I listen to your program every Monday night and enjoy it very much.
A member,
Alice Fitzpatrick,
311 Park street,
Medford Mass.
Daddy Sunshine is happy to learn you are back again from the hospital and knows you will soon be able to run around and enjoy yourself the same as you did previous to your illness. Be very careful you do not overexert yourself until you are certain free from danger. Glad you enjoy the radio programs. Hope you write again, soon.
From Revere
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I would be very pleased if you would send me the names and addresses of some foreign boys or girls, as I would like to correspond with one I have heard of your club before and think very nice.
A friend of mine writes to a German boy.
I am 13, going on fourteen years of age. Now I will close.
Yours truly,
Kathryn Tranfaglia
36 Crest Ave.,
Revere, Mass.
Daddy Sunshine will be glad to comply with the request of Kathryn.

Opera house, and was Miss
Brown's guest behind the scenes.
She was accompanied by her mother and her dancing teacher,
Miss Norris of Malden.

Welcomed Stork
Joy reigns in the home of the Michael Farmers (the was Gloria Swanson) at London, England,
since the stork arrived with a baby girl to the celebrated screen star and her sportsman husband, Miss Swanson has a daughter, Gloria,
by a previous marriage, as well as an adopted son.

High School Notes
—One difficulty has arisen from the late date of the Prize Speaking contest. The winner of this contest was generally the speaker of Paul Revere's Ride on April 19th, but this year the contest does not take place until the week of April 25.
—There will be a contest next week for the honor of Speaking at the public observance of Pa-triot's day, at the Isaac Hall house.
—Robert Walker, a post-graduate, has been absent for the past few days with an attack of the gripe.
—Miss Margaret O'Connor of Fal River was the guest recently of Miss Eleanor N. Hart of 84
Dover street, West Medford. Miss O'Connor was Miss Hart's classmate at Boston University, School of Practical Arts and Letters.

University Extension
Adds More Courses
James A. Moyer, Director of the University Extension Division,
State Department of Education,
announces the addition of four graduate courses in education to the recently issued statewide schedule of fifty summer courses for teachers.
This special program of courses,
intended for teachers, principals, and students of education,
will be given at Massachusetts
State College, Amherst, from July 6 to August 1. All four courses carry credit toward the graduate degree of master of science as well as the undergraduate bachelor's degree. The courses offered are in "Principles and Methods of Teaching," "Vocational Guide-
ance," "Secondary Education," and "Applied Psychology." Professors Winthrop S. Welles and Harry N. Glick, both of the department of education, Massachusetts State College, will be the instructors.
Care has been taken in planning this schedule to offer students a choice between a full program of residence study for the four weeks' session, or a part-time program requiring class attendance only one or two days of each week. It is possible to earn during the session from one to five semester hours of college credit. "Principles and Methods of Teaching" and "Vocational Guidance" are both one-plant courses and will be held on Wednesdays beginning July 6, with morning and afternoon sessions.
The other two courses, "Secondary Education" and "Applied Psychology" are evaluated at two semester hours each. They will meet on Mondays and Fridays beginning July 8. There are no conflicts between the meeting
times of any of these classes.
In addition to these classes at Amherst, fifty other University Extension courses for teachers will be given in twelve centers
throughout the State—Boston,
Brookline, Fitchburg, Greenfield,
Hypniss, Lowell, New Bedford,
Newburyport, North Adams, Salem, Springfield, and Worcester.
A bulletin describing this program in full may be obtained by writing to University Extension, 217 State House, Boston.
Arlington
Theatre Hits
The public clamor for something new in motion pictures was abundantly gratified last night at the Capitol Theatre,
when "Union Depot," the First National and Vitaphone production, starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. with Joan Blondell as his leading lady—audaciously opened its local engagement.
The breath-taking action of this romantic comedy-thriller takes place in and about the confines of a vast railroad station, whose ever-changing throngs creates atmosphere rich
in drama and human interest.
Against this picturesque background the vivid personalities of the star and leading lady are placed with brilliant effectiveness.
"Union Depot" is a fast-moving modern story of real life—the kind that might happen to anybody any day in any big station. The picture is kaleidoscopic in its revealing glimpses of the actors in the passing show of all humanity. People of all sorts of conditions, by its magic, become splendidly living and understandable. Touches of paths are relayed by unexpected thrills, and by laughter that rings true. Folks leave the theatre happier than they came,
seeing the world through rosier
glasses.
Even the likeable young Doug has never been quite so ingratiating as in the role of the improvident and penniless adventurer who gets his miraculous chance to be a millionaire for a day—rescuer of maidens in distress—discoverer of dark-browed villains—hobo and hero—game
loser—and gallant winner. "Union Depot" also gives the vivacious
Joan her big opportunity, enabling her to display new phases of her individual talent.
"Union Depot," the First National and Vitaphone production
starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and featuring Joan Blondell, ends
its successful local engagement at the Capitol with today's performances. It is the consensus of opinion that Douglas gives his most delightful characterization as Chic, the adventurous and romantic hobo of "Union Depot."
Blonde Joan Blondell is pert, on occasion pathetic, and altogether charming, as the stranded actress Alfred E. Green has directed with fine appreciation of the varying moods of romance, comedy and melodrama in "Union Depot."

Will Dedicate
Continued from page one point, at noon on June 8, the Massachusetts Commission will meet the Connecticut delegation and proceed to the Eastern States Fair Grounds at West
Springfield, where joint exercises will inaugurate the dedication ceremony in this Commonwealth. From this point, a cavalcade of floats, portraying various phases of Washington's life, will escort "George Washington" over the highway to Boston.
Under the plans of the State Commission, the first stop-over will be at Springfield, where the Bicentennial Committee of that city, headed by Mayor Dwight
R. Winter and W. F. Adams,
Chairman of the Bicentennial
Committee will conduct impressive exercises. From Springfield on the 9th, the Massachusetts procession will continue on to Worcester, where the dedication exercises will be held until the following day. The following day, June 10, the procession will move on to Boston, where, at the city line, the City of Boston Bicentennial Committee will escort "George Washington" and his entourage through the city.
A great patriotic mass meeting will feature the City of Boston program.
Several thousand school children will take prominent part in the general exercises in each of the twenty-four cities and towns through which the highway passes. The dedication exercises in the individual cities and towns will be constructed largely around a tablet marking the highway, to be erected at some conspicuous point in these communities. "George Washington" will be escorted from one town to another and join in the individual exercises.
He will describe in the first person his previous experiences and visits to these points during his trips as President of the United States in 1789.
Each city and town will, as near as possible, reenact the circumstances such as took place when Washington through the community on his way to Boston. The roar of cannons will announce the approach of "Washington" at many of these cities and towns. Many of the cities will portray in costume
several of the outstanding Massachusetts men of Washington's time in these communities.
Because of the significance of this very important event on the State program for the Bicen-tenial year, the Massachusetts Commission is especially anxious that, wherever possible, the individual city and town Bicen-tenial Committees will have the cooperation of the various historical societies, World War Veterans, other war veterans, patriotic organizations, and service clubs. It urges the heads of these various organizations to communicate at once with the Chairman of the Bicentennial Commission with a view of taking some part in the program.
The State Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Carl L. Schrader is President, will play an important part in the general program.
The following named committees and their chairmen will take charge of the exercises in the cities and towns: West
Springfield, Mr. Winthrop Bragg;
Springfield, Mr. William F.
Adams; Wilbraham, Mrs. H. W.
Cutter; Palmer, Miss Isabelle R.
West; Brimfield, Mrs. E. S.
Elder; West Brookfield, Mr. M. C.
Webb; Brookfield, Mr. A. H.
Bellews; East Brookfield, Mr.
George Putney; Spencer, Dr.
Alonzo A. Bemis; Shrewsbury,
Mr. F. W. Gifford; Northborough,
Mr. F. W. Eames; Marlborough,
Mr. Charles F. McCarthy; Wayland, Mrs. Nellie Rice Fiske; Waltham, Mr. John H. Walsh;
Watertown, Mr. William P. Ma-
gure; Boston, Honorable Thomas
A. Mullen.
Outside of the six cities on the route, the following towns have already raised money for the highway bronze marker: North-borough, Palmer, Shrewsbury, Spencer and Wayland.

RESIDENT IS ADDED
AT ROBBINS LIBRARY
With considerable discussion about Russia and its influence upon international affairs now taking place, Arlington people will welcome the Robbins Memorial Library's addition of Hans von Eckardt's new book concerning that country. The title of the book is "Russia" and contains information which is considered most helpful in understanding the condition of Russia today. It is translated from the German by Catherine Alison Phillips. "Secret of the Universe," by N. R. Wood, of Arlington, is also among the new books.
Robbins library has also added

INJURIES HAVE FAILED TO STOP BUDILOV

Many athletes are born with ability and do not deserve as much praise as those who work their way up in the ranks by consistent plugging with little or no ability to start with. Then again there are athletes with natural ability whose careers are almost blotted out by severe injuries who make startling comebacks in their favorite sport or sports. The latter class should merit even more praise than any of the others.

Max "Mac" Budilov, Sophomore member of the catching corps at Tufts College who may start behind the bat for the Jumbos in the opening game with Boston University this afternoon, is one of that group. Three different times during his young life he has broken his right leg in three separate places. Each time when the injured member was healed he came right back for more and stuck to baseball.

Mac is a former Malden High star. When he first entered high school he was a candidate for the football team but being quite under size was not listed with the chosen few. Having nothing to do with himself he went pinching apples one afternoon with the gang. He was on the top of a huge tree chucking down the Baldwin's to his mates below when the cry of "cheese it" reached his ears. He hustled down and attempted to leap a nearby fence. Over he went but the right leg dragged behind and snapped when he hit the ground on the opposite side.

The following year he was again a candidate for the eleven and was successful in making the squad. One afternoon when carrying the ball for Team B in a scrimmage with the regulars he found himself on the bottom of a big pile within the shadows of the goal posts. When 21 huskies had untangled Mac was unable to get up and soon discovered that the leg had been broken again. That injury forced him to watch the activities from the sidelines for over two years. In the spring of his senior year he was able to walk steady again and made a bid for the catching berth on the Malden High nine. He was again successful and bore the brunt of the receiving for the Blue and Gold that season.

The summer following he purchased a paper route and started to save his pennies toward college tuition. One day he was ordered off a street car by the conductor. He made a quick jump and landed in the path of a big truck, his right leg going under the wheel and being broken a third time. The doctors feared that they would be forced to amputate it but Mac explained that he could not run down to first base with a wooden peg serving as his right leg. He went through several painful operations and managed to retain the valuable member.

Now it is strong and well again and he is able to race around the sacks in very few seconds. Barring any further unfortunate incidents Mac will be a member of the Jumbo varsity nine for three seasons. His work was watched closely last spring by Coach Ken Nash when he played with the Freshmen nine and rode the apple at an even .300 clip.

Mac is working his way through school, doing extra jobs in his spare time. He does not intend to take up baseball for a livelihood. When he receives his college sheepskin he will enter medical school.

GIRLS FORM SWIMMING TEAM

The Girls at Medford High have formed a swimming team and have already ducked Malden in the first meet of the season held Wednesday afternoon at the Malden "Y" pool. The score was 24-18, the local misses winning every event but one.

Constance Wyatt was the big star, scoring first places in the 50-yard freestyle, 20-yard freestyle and diving. Several other meets will be scheduled before the close of school and the team bids well to win the majority of them. The girls are conducting the team on their own hook without the services of any coach.

OFFER TEACHERS' TEAM ANOTHER GAME

If the Teachers' basketball team desires another game with Company E it may be had for the asking. We talked with Manager Reardon last night and he said another meeting of the same rivals would be possible on one week from next Wednesday. If the Teachers play and win a third and deciding game of the series could be played.

Another battle on the Armory court would undoubtedly draw a capacity crowd. Those who witnessed the thrilling 29-28 charity tilt last week admit that it was one of the best staged here this season, neither team having any great advantage during the contest and the result being up in the air until the final seconds.

It looks as though the Company E season will continue right down to the final week of the month. Next week the Lakesides will be opposed, a team including Art and Dick Cochran, Fred McLucas, Jake Yagjian, Fred Stoddard and Skeet Hudson. Manager Reardon is endeavoring to book the Alpha Nu Pi of the Hill side for the second team game.

POPULAR CIVIC CLUB CAPTAIN

Johnny McCullough's election as captain of the Civic Club nine is a most popular one. The husky catcher hopes to lead the Civics to the City League championship and if his inspiring leadership counts for anything the team will reach its objective.

McCullough is a hard worker and a smooth catcher to watch in action. He carries his 185 pounds well and makes full use of his strength in riding the apple consistently over the .300 mark. Last year he was the second highest sticker on the club, being topped only by Captain Hiker Mobilia who hit in the vicinity of .340.

McCullough was a football player of note in his high school days, which were not so long ago, Johnny being only 21 years old now. He played halfback for Boston College High three seasons, playing the entire game against Medford here when Buddy Edgerly was leading the Blue and White. Johnny's younger brother who scales a good 160 pounds and reaches six feet, is a candidate for the Medford High eleven and was retained on the squad for spring practice. Just an athletic family.

BOWLING NEWS

The Medford Church bowling league will bring its 21st season to a close next Thursday evening with the annual banquet at the Medford Women's Club. President Langill will preside and award the many trophies to the top teams and individual winners.

The City League has three weeks to go, undertaking the longest schedule in the history of the circuit. The banquet has been put off until May. The Clowns are still a few points in the lead but the Hillides and Bruins are pressing close to the top. Tom Faucette and Bill Lindsay are battling for the high average prizes.

Twenty-to-One Shot in Derby

"Lucky Tom," by "Master Charlie Phyllis Louise," owned by J. J. Robinson, is regarded by many experts as having a good chance to come home "in the money" in the 1932 Kentucky Derby. The horse, shown with Jockey Pascuma up, is quoted in the Winter books at twenty to one.

Downes Appointed Assistant Coach Of Boston College Varsity Eleven

Medford Boy To Assist Head Coach Joe McKenney and Will Take Full Charge of the Line—Was All-American Center Last Fall—Plays In Four Sports, Active the Year Round—McKenney Feels That Harry Is Welcome Addition To Staff

In keeping with the policy of appointing graduates to coaching posts Harry Downes of 24 Hale avenue, South Medford, was yesterday made head line coach of football at Boston College, no assistant head coach Joe McKenney. Harry succeeds Bill Ohrenberger, former Maroon and Gold tackle who is expected to take over the position recently resigned by Leo Daley at Boston English, coach of all sports at that school.

Downes played center for the Boston College eleven for three seasons but not until last fall did he come into real prominence, being picked for all-American pivot man on many teams selected by authoritative writers.

Harry is adept in four sports, baseball, football, basketball and hockey. He is expected to be the leading hurler for the Boston College diamond outfit this spring. He has played basketball with the B. C. Independents, St. Mark's of Dorchester and St. Clement's Catholic Club of Medford. He started to develop as a star when attending Boston English High School. Harry has lived in Medford for five years, moving here from Charlestown.

McKenney is more than pleased with the appointment. In fact he has mentioned Downes to the athletic council several times, considering him a brainy player, one that could be of great assistance to him. Last year Downes directed the defensive from his position at roving center.

High School Play At Robert Junior Is Seen By Many

Last evening at the Robert Junior High Dramatic club players presented the final performance of "Merton of the Movies".

The play, a comedy in four acts, was a big success, playing before a capacity house. The large audience was kept in good humor throughout by the humorous antics and escapades of the players.

The plot of the play dealt with the adventures and hardships of a movie mad country "Rube" who goes to Hollywood with the hope of becoming a big star. He imagines he is in love with one of the leading actresses who he thinks performs all her own hazardous feats. When he realizes that she is only faking and that she uses a double he falls in love with the double.

There is a minor plot woven in the play. Merton has a distinct aversion for comedies as he considers that they are degrading to the art of the motion picture by a clever ruse he is fooled into playing in one of these comedies

McCullough To Lead Civic Club

Johnny McCullough, husky catcher, was elected captain of the Medford Civic baseball team for the coming season at a meeting of the organization held Thursday evening at the home of John "Hiker" Mobilia. He succeeds Mobilia who led the Civics to third place in each half of the Medford City League last season.

McCullough caught in all but one game played in the 1931 campaign. His fielding average was almost perfect and his batting was well over .300. He is impressive behind the bat, rating one of the best in the circuit.

McCullough is also President and a charter member of the Civic club, being exceptionally popular with his fellow members.

Somerville Mayor Signs Contract For New Police Station

Mayor John J. Murphy of Somerville signed a contract with the William J. Sullivan Company of Somerville for the construction of the new police building and garage in Union square, Somerville. The contract includes plumbing, heating and lighting apparatus and fixtures. The building which will be completed by Dec. 15, 1932, will cost $176,167.

and becomes a hit, thereby becoming a star through the method which he was trying to avoid. There were several scenes in the play, portraying the "shooting of a picture", which were exceptionally well done by the youthful actors. The leads played by John Neil as "Merton", and Helen E. Bent as "The Montague Girl" were finely played and drew much applause from the audience.

The play was directed by Leslie R. Carey, head of the Public Speaking department at the high school.

Invented "Tubeless" Radio

Expected to revolutionize the entire industry, this radio receiving set, the invention of Ernest Patrick (left), 21-year-old electrical genius of Columbus, Ind., is remarkable for its total absence of tubes. For radio fans of the world the invention means a simplified and economic receiving set which is expected to make every type of set now in use obsolete. Dr. Bruce Morgan, noted British scientist and consulting engineer, is shown examining the new marvel.

St. Joseph's Juniors Win In Tourney

St. Joseph's Juniors remained in the annual Boston Boys' Club tournament competition by dusting off the Beachmont Blackhawks last night, 22-14.

Captain Henry Gerrior and Sal Gemellaro led the attack for the victors, each scoring six points. McCarthy's defensive work also featured. Bernard, Blackhawks' center, scored eight points.

Two other Medford teams played last night, both being eliminated. The Medford Millionaires were downed by the Caddies of Milton in the feature of the set of 15 games, 28-24. St. Joseph's Midgets were defeated by Somerville Midgets 22-21. The summaries:

Local 43 Tops Baptist Seniors

Local 43 defeated the Senior five of the First Baptist church in a one-sided game of basketball last evening, 49-13. The winners grabbed the lead shortly after the first tap and were never pressed. Farnum led the attack, scoring 24 points, almost half of his team's high total.

Local 43 Seconds took a hard fought preliminary game from the Seniors' seconds, 35-33. The winners led 22-8 at halftime but the Seniors' seconds made a strong comeback in the last half, all but winning the verdict. The summaries:

TO VISIT N. Y.

Prof. Leo R. Lewis, Fletcher Professor of Music at Tufts college, is to address St. Stephen's college, Annandale-on-Hudson, New York, on Monday, April 11. In telling "How and Why to Appreciate Music" he will be assisted by the Tufts String quartet which will accompany him to New York. It being his conviction that the best way to explain anything is to have that thing in your hand and show it out to the listener, he will have the string quartet illustrate his points as he goes along, playing selections from Beethoven, Tschalkowsky, Borodin, Haydn and Mozart.

The personnel of the quartet which has greatly distinguished itself on the Tufts campus this year, is as follows: First violin, Samuel H. Boiarsky, '33, Winthrop; viola, Lawrence W. Childer, Tufts College, of the Departments of Music and Economics; second violin, Charles Isenstien, '35, Winthrop; cello, Harry Goldman, '35, East Bridgewater.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
MIDDLESEX, SS.
PROBATE COURT

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Robert E. Burnett, late of Arlington in said County, deceased. Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate by Robert H. Gardiner and Robert E. Burnett, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bonds. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twentieth day of April A. D. 1932 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. STARTS HARMONICA CLUB

A meeting of St. Joseph's Girls' Harmonica club was held at the home of Miss Teresa Maggerty of South street, Thursday night.

The meetings will be held on Monday nights instead of Thursday nights from now on. Among those attending were: Catherine Nestor, Irene Carroll, Frances Good, Virginia Murphy, Rita Glynn, Lillian Huckins, Agnes Boudreau, Eleanor Burke, May Kelley and Winnifred Murphy.

Nearest The Heart
by Elyse Joy

(Miss Joy will answer all communications sent to her care of this paper. For personal service kindly enclose self-addressed envelope.)

"My husband is a perfect man everywhere but in his own home and then he is nothing but a smoke stack. Does he do a single thing but smoke and sputter up every room in the house, and when I insist that he go outside and smoke, he goes into a rage and threatens to leave me. What can I do about it?" "How can I keep my home happy—and on this unwise woman writes, telling in every added word, the guilty part she is playing in the domestic role of wife and literally screaming to the housewife, her selfishness, and short sightedness.

We all know how to answer her but what if she does let him smoke until his pipe smoulders to ashes today and tomorrow, sure as guns, she'll clean house, next week, and then if we don't miss our guess, she'll have the self same problem all over again to straighten out and fret about, because she just can't help herself, she's a horn crank and nuisance to all of her family and community as well.

Instead of complaining because her husband stays home at night to smoke, she should be down on bended knees giving thanks, for there are thousands of her sisters, who would give everything they possessed in the world, if only their men were as half as domestic loving as this poor innocent smoker, but they aren't, and from what we can gather all of the hospitable heartiness in the universe can't make them become so, either.

A woman who keeps her house, as "neat as a band box" may be wise, but when she ties up that bank book with the strong strings of "you can" and "you can't" "you must" and "you mustn't" to their inhabitants is not only unwise, but is the most irritating solution on the material market.

Personally I never could understand for the life of me, why any man could ever allow his wife to rob him of his manhood privileges to such an extent that he would have to seek refuge with his pipe, smelly as it may be, on the back porch, while the rest of the family snuggled close the glowing embers within, enjoying their dissipations, with all of the ease and comfort of a true home.

Take, for instance, the immaculate housekeeper knitting contraptions. Don't you think friend Hubby could find some source of irritation in the fuzzy wool spotted about the carpet, at the end of the knitting session in his ready wanted to retaliate from the mean under handed remarks, about his "terrible old pipe that smells somethin' awful?"

And don't you think, if he really wanted to be mean, he could find argument in the fact that although the wife may be in charge of the home, and feel justified in making her rules, there wouldn't be any home to quarrel about, in these smoking discussions, if he didn't actually provide the where-with-all, for it?

But apparently this is one fact that a great many of us women seem to forget when we lay down the rules for our dearhearts. Simply because a pipe or a cigar fails to exhume the delicate odors of a choice perfume, perhaps fitting to the overdresses and Oriental atmosphere of the living room, smoking is banned, in more than one home. This is the only side of the question given any consideration, and yet, if the average home keeper would only stop and think a minute before shoeing all smokers from her doors, whether they be Mr. Brother, Cousin Willis or the Boarder, I'm very sure, she would rescind all orders, and not only provide the matches for the gathering, but even go in, fifty-fifty on the tobacco as well.

Speaking of these non-smoking homes brings to our memory, a neighbor we used to have near our home when I was a small child. At the time, I didn't quite understand why Uncle Charley as all the children, called him, walked up and down the street, in all kinds of weather, especially when he had such a pretty home, with green blinds, large veranda and the cheeriest lights peering from every window, and a cozy hour. He never seemed to want to go in his own home but kept parading about, talking to the neighbors as he puffed away on a generous smelling old pipe of clay. His wife was a good woman. We all knew that and her kindness to the poor was a thing for roundable discussion. Never once did she fail to stand back of every cake sale the church ran, and when any public appeal was made for help, her name always headed the list.

A perfect neighbor, a perfect housekeeper, and yet one day, Uncle Charley was reported as missing. He went out for his usual evening smoke, Aunt Flossie, his wife, told the police "because I never let him smoke in the house, it smelled up the curtains so" and on this certain night, he failed to return home.

That was more than 25 years ago and I guess right to this very minute, Aunt Flossie is still waiting for him to return and wondering why he ever disappeared from his "happy home." "He had every thing to live for," she told a neighbor—"everything, and yet he wandered away. I tried to make him a good home and keep a clean house but I guess I have failed miserably" is her daily reproach.

And a just one it is too—she did make a good housekeeper for him and his house was spotless, but when a man is driven to the streets, to enjoy an innocent

Bay State Leads In Number Of Cities
In Safety Contest

With four times as many cities and towns competing in the National traffic safety contest for 1932 as any other state in the union, and starting the year with a terrific handicap in the shape of a 17 per cent increase in highway fatalities for the first quarter of the fiscal year, Massachusetts will be watched by the rest of the nation with more than usual interest for the rest of the year as one of the best proving grounds available for modern highway safety measures to function on.

The cities and towns of 44 states, as well as the district of Columbia and the Hawaiian Islands, are competing in the national contest for the title of the safest American city, with Massachusetts heading the list with 116 entries, as against 31 in New Jersey, the state with the next largest number.

The competing cities and towns are divided into seven population groups to insure the fairest possible competition and winners are to be picked on the basis of the lowest accident record and death rates per 10,000 population, coupled with the intelligence and scope of their safety programs, combining educational, engineering and enforcement measures. This double check is designed to prevent communities from winning awards either through a lucky break in fatality reduction or the product of chance rather than an effective safety program, or from walking off with the prize because of a high-sounding and apparently comprehensive safety program which, however, fails to produce the goods in the shape of definitely reduced accidents.

The Governor's Committee, since the beginning of the year, has been working to get all those communities which entered the contest who desired help in the way of formulating safety programs and following up the National Safety Council's recommendations for accident reporting on which the standing of one city is to be judged.

Particular attention is being paid to those 115 Massachusetts communities which showed an increase over the previous year, the most outstanding example of which is the city of Brockton, where a city-wide survey to determine the causes of a steady increase in accidents in the past few years is being conducted with a view to eliminating as many accident causes as possible by educational, enforcement and engineering methods as soon as the danger spots are revealed.

While Massachusetts highway fatalities were increasing during the first three months of the fiscal year (which includes the period from December 1, 1931 to February 29, 1932), State police arrests for automobile violations were keeping pace with the rising tide of accidents according to a summary of the state police activities for the same period.

These figures showed the highest total of arrests for the first quarter of any year in history, the increase over the previous year amounting to 25.3 per cent and being more than double the number for the same period in 1930.

The total number of arrests for all automobile violations in December, January, and February of the present fiscal year was 1,506, as compared to 1,110 last year and 687 two years ago. Failure to keep to the right hand side of the road with the view ahead obstructed, excessive speed, failure to slow down at intersections and driving under the influence of liquor were the four most prevalent violations encountered. Coupled with the general heading of operating so as to endanger, they caused 1,043 arrests, or some 69 per cent of the total.

Fenton Mitchell, Jr.
Has Birthday Party

Fenton R. Mitchell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fenton R. Mitchell, 130 Warren street, West Medford, celebrated his sixth birthday yesterday with a party to which 14 of his little friends were invited.

The afternoon was spent in games in which the winners received prizes.

The dining table was very attractive with its decorations in pink, blue and yellow, the center of attraction being a large birthday cake, topped with six candles.

The children present were Barbara and Shirley Bonnell, Barbara Davis, Charles and Nelson Downes, Eugene and J. Raymond Gaffey Jr., Charlotte and John Gilbert, Carol Knowlton Jr., Patricia McFarland, Edward Robinson, John Scates and Patricia Teal.

Mrs. Mitchell was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Bonnell, Mrs. J. Raymond Gaffey and Mrs. Carol Downes.

—George Fusco, graduate of the class of '31 of Medford high school, returned to Amherst college after spending his Easter vacation at home.

No Bids Received
$23,000,000 Notes
Transit District

No sealed bids were received yesterday by the trustees of the Metropolitan Transit District for the advertised notes amounting to $23,125,000. Chairman Edward L. Logan, presiding over the session of the board, invited the score or more financial men to the board's office at the stroke of twelve and made the announcement. When he asked if any of the gentlemen present had any suggestions to offer, there was no response.

Immediately after the barren announcement the board went into session and received interested persons singly and in groups for more than an hour, several banking houses, being represented among those who wished to talk with the commission. The notes to be issued are in anticipation of bonds and were to be used to refund the notes now outstanding. They are legal for savings banks in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine and New Hampshire.

Absence of bidding is plainly due to the delay of the Legislature in changing the name of Metropolitan Transit District to Boston Metropolitan District, bankers feeling that the inclusion of the word "Transit" in the title would make it difficult to sell the bonds to investors.

Later in the day Gov. Ely signed the bill to change the name of the Metropolitan Transit District to Boston Metropolitan District. This legislation was recommended in a special message by the Governor.

The House passed the bill without delay, but the Senate had several debates. Both branches enacted the measure yesterday and it was taken to the Governor's home in Westfield by Executive Messenger Thomas Ray shortly before noon yesterday. The bill was signed in Westfield shortly before 5 o'clock.

The bill was passed to be engrossed by the Senate Thursday afternoon. At yesterday morning's session, Senator Warren of Arlington, who has opposed the measure for some time, moved that the action of Thursday be reconsidered. The motion was rejected by a rising vote of 20 to 2.

Prior to voting, the Senate heard Pres. Bacon explain the provisions of the measure. It was the second time Pres. Bacon had taken the floor since he became presiding officer.

Pres. Bacon said he took the floor because he "thought he knew something about the elevated situation which has been terribly befogged" and the "impression created that something sinister was going on."

Scoring Senator Warren's suggestion that the transit district be allowed "to default on these notes next Thursday," Pres. Bacon exclaimed, "Think of any body saying that in these times!"

The bill, Pres. Bacon said, "gives reputable trustees authority to make the best trade they can." Without the bill, he continued, "their hands are tied." The bill, he went on, would give them discretion to deal with bankers anywhere. He said he did not know who was going to buy the notes or bonds, and added that Senator Warren did not know.

Continuing, he said, "The sooner we get it through the better because this trade has got to be made by Thursday. Let us dispose of it now for the best interest of the people of the Metropolitan district."

Both branches later enacted the bill and attached an emergency preamble. It was then sent to Gov. Ely.

Lawrence
Preparing For Legion

Commander Jere J. Twomey has given the command to one thousand members of Lawrence Post 15, American Legion, to send the 1932 Convention of the State Department of Massachusetts "over the top" and when the genial Commander gives an order it is always carried out completely.

All Lawrence is already enthused over the plans that are being laid for the reception of the state legionnaires there in August. The entire citizenry is joining with the veterans to insure making the visit of the American Legion delegates, all legionnaires and other visitors one that will live long in their memories.

The chairman of the various committees have been working quietly for months and have now swung into full action. They are heeding the demand of the commander that nothing be left to the last minute. It is planned to make it the best convention Massachusetts has ever seen and it is recognized that that is one big job. The Legion home is a busy place every night, as there is no night on which some committee is not in session carrying out the work of preparation.

Tickets are already being disposed of by the members for the Grand Ball on June 14 at the Boston Arena. This is the big pre-convention event and a capital prize of $25,000 is to be awarded. Other prizes will bring the grand total of awards up to $100,000. Lawrence is ready to open wide its arms to all the legionnaires of Massachusetts next August. Hospitality will be the keynote of the occasion. Commander Twomey predicts that a record crowd for conventions will be established in Lawrence for the 1932 convention.

Miss Mary Harrington of Malden was tendered a surprise shower at the home of Mrs. Francis McCarthy of Governors avenue.

Miss Harrington is to become the wife of Ex-Representative John J. McCarthy of Charlestown on June 18th. She was the recipient of many useful gifts from her friends.

The house was decorated in pink and white and a tasty collation was served. Among those present were Alice Berger, Mary Coughlin, Jane O'Brien, Anne O'Brien, Betty Singer, Kay Keegan, May MacLean, Elsie Harnett, Tess Lenehan, Dorothy Lenehan, Mrs. Agnes Perkins, Mrs. Helen Mullis, Mrs. Mary Baldwin, Ann Harrington, Alice Harrington, Catherine Harrington, Marguerite Flynn, Mattie Rhodes, Barbara Flynn, Nora MacCarthy, Mrs. James Mellon, Mrs. J. MacLean, Mary Cuniffe and Mrs. M. Tobiano.

Annual Elections At Jackson College

The most important of Jackson College annual elections will take place on Monday, April 11, when the leaders of the Student Council for 1932-33 will be elected, announcements not being made until the Awards Ceremony on Junior Day, May 7. Candidates for President of the Council, that highest of Jackson honors, are Miss Eileen M. Campion, '33, Ware, and Miss R. Jean Lowery, '33, New London, Connecticut. Miss Campion has been president of her class since her freshman year, has been a member of the varsity hockey and basketball teams, as well as one of the first in the ranks of tennis champions, and has been a member of the Student Council for three years, being vice-president at the present time.

Miss Lowery has also distinguished herself in sports, is a member of the Panhellenic Council, and has recently been elected president of Chi Omega sorority. She is also a member of Student Council this year. Both girls have just been elected to represent the Jackson Council at the Conference of Women's Student Governments of New England to be held at Massachusetts State College on April 14, 15, and 16, where ideas are exchanged and common problems discussed.

Candidates for the vice-presidency are Miss Elizabeth Berry, '34, Winchester, president of her class for two years, and Miss Marion E. Glennie, '34, North Andover. The Secretary-treasurer will be either Miss Mildred L. Carley, '34, North Attleboro, or Miss Wilhelmina E. Harris, '35, South Dartmouth.

—Miss Rita Furlong who for five years was employed by Mrs. Frances N. Brown, beauty specialist in the Coolidge building, is back again with Mrs. Brown.

Republican Dinner Meeting On Tuesday

Republicans of the Sixth Middlesex district are anticipating an informative address on the policies, achievements and ambitions of the Hoover Administration at their dinner meeting at Times Hall, Woburn, next Tuesday evening. John Richardson, Esq., of Boston and Canton, close friend of the President and delegate to the National Convention is the speaker.
Fireworks are expected during the discussion of the liquor question which will take place at the close of the recess following his address. The fight between the wets and dries for control of the National Convention is on in earnest. The Massachusetts dry organizations have placed in the hands of members of the President's cabinet and of the delegates to the Convention the following letter:

"A candidate cannot be divorced from the platform on which he runs. Voters see through such obvious fraud as running a candidate on a platform which he does not approve. The voters will not be deceived by the Republican Party in 1932 if it is so unwise as to put a wet plank in the platform to embarrass President Hoover."

"No one who tries to put a wet resubmission plank in the Republican platform should pretend to be a friend of President Hoover. He was elected by dries, and he will not desert his friends to please his enemies. No one can believe that he would accept a nomination on a wet platform. Any one who is trying to put a resubmission plank in the platform is working either for his elimination or for his defeat. With a wet resubmission plank, the Republicans could not carry a single southern state, and they would lose many of the farming states of the West."

On the other hand wets who are close to the President are equally certain that he would be willing and even glad to run on a modification or resubmission platform. They firmly believe that in a wet platform the Republican Party would win a sweeping victory. Republicans from this district will have an opportunity to thresh this matter out next Tuesday evening. Tickets for the dinner are $1.00.
Mayor Alfred W. Peterson will welcome the council to Woburn.

SORORITY MEETS

The Phi Delta Sigma sorority held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the home of Miss Audrey E. Thompson of Bailey street, Medford.
The girls held a short meeting during which they planned a trip to Provincetown in the latter part of the Spring. Refreshments were served and entertainment was enjoyed. Those present were Misses Marion Woolley, Helen Kearns, Blanche Poole, Audrey Thompson, Betty Hunter, Margaret Rhinehart and Kay Whittemore.

ATTEND BALL

Several young people from Medford attended the Chandler Secretarial school alumni dance at the Commonwealth Country club. Miss Eloise Hart of 84 Dover street, was chairman of the affair. Other local people attending were Eleanor N. Hart, Arthur J. Hart Jr., Alma Welch, Andrew Zimbaldi, Ernest Lutz and Joseph Rohmer.
